

EDINGTON

VISITWILTSHIRE

A varied walk that combines a wide range of countryside habitats with fabulous views. There are interesting churches to visit en-route and several nearby pubs for sustenance after the walk! The route takes you up Edington Hill and onto the Imber Range Perimeter Path (IRPP). Edington has its place in history as the site where King Alfred, in 878, gained a decisive victory over Danish invaders - ensuring the continuing existence of Wessex as an independent kingdom.

1 Start

Having parked adjacent to the village green, take the path directly in front of you, next to the building with a post box in the wall. Continue on until a four-way junction, go straight ahead along the metalled road for around half-a-mile, then turn L at the T-junction. Here you will see Priory House, and as you follow the wall around, Edington Priory Church comes into view. Opposite the church gate there is another small gate with a sign saying Ralph's Seat – a detour to see this feature takes you up steps to find this secret place with lovely views.

2 0.8km/½ mile

On leaving the church continue up the road towards the hills. After 75 yds take the footpath to the R of the red brick cottages. On reaching the main road turn R onto the pavement. After 50 yds turn L crossing the B3098, and follow the signed footpath up Edington Hill. Cross the stile where the path enters open access land and continue straight up hill to another stile that leads into a field. This hill is the steepest part of the walk. It is a steep incline but the views looking back make it worth the effort. Having crossed into the field that is usually cultivated and may be ploughed, head due south over the crest of the hill to another stile in the far fence line. The farmer should have cut a path through standing crops but when a field is newly ploughed or planted this may not be the case. Having crossed the stile onto open access land, follow the path, keeping the fence on your right, to a metal gate. There are fabulous views on your right over Lucombe Bottom towards Bratton Camp with the village of Bratton in the near distance. The open access land you cross contains tumuli and pillow mounds.

3 2km/1¼ miles

Go through the gate and follow the track until you reach the next gate.

Turn immediately L towards the farm buildings about ¼ mile away. Take this track toward the farm buildings (GR 931522). You are now joining the Imber Range Perimeter Path (IRPP). Continue straight on past the farm buildings. At the metalled road turn R and after 25 yds bear L back on to the footpath. Continue along the IRPP between two large open fields.

4 4.2km/2½ miles

On reaching the stile, (GR 942530), climb over and bear L. You will see the IRPP byway signs ahead of you. At the signs, turn R and continue up the hill. Just after the brow of the hill on your R you will find the old 1763 milestone showing a distance of 19 miles to Sarum (Salisbury) and 17 miles to Bath. At the junction carry straight on. As you reach the metalled road and the triangle of grass, turn L onto the marked footpath, staying on the L-hand side of the fence. There are excellent views beyond Erlestoke Golf Course. As you approach the woodland turn R over the stile. Once over the stile bear L down next to the fence and through the woods. This is steep so take care.

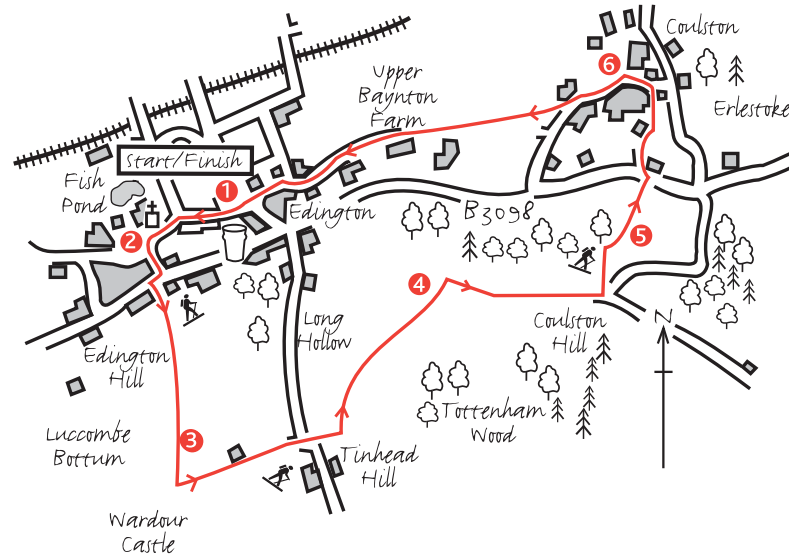

5 5.5km/3½ miles

As you emerge from the woods, cross a stile and head diagonally across the field, following the depression, towards a white cottage on the road at the far side of the field. On reaching the bottom of the hill, take the stile on the L of the metal gates and cross the road with care into the driveway for Baynton House. This is a footpath. You are now entering a Deer Park so ensure all dogs are kept on leads. As you emerge from the grounds of Baynton House, you will see the church of St Thomas a Becket in Coulston, set in a peaceful glade. Moving on from the church you drop down to a metalled road where you turn L.

6 6.4km/4 miles

At the next junction bear L signposted for Bratton and Westbury. After ¼ mile there is a signpost for two public footpaths leading to the R (you will see a small red brick building about 15 yds down the path). Take the left-most of the paths and go through a kissing gate into a field. Go straight ahead across five fields separated by metal footpath gates. As you proceed, the chimney of the Westbury Cement works (no longer in operation) comes into view in the distance. On reaching the metalled road that is Baynton Road, continue along this road, bearing L at a T-junction and on to the village green.
